

Partners Preventing Falls

First responders and the Aging and Disability Resource Center (ADRC) of Brown County work together to help prevent falls at home. We care about the well-being of older adults in our community and are committed to helping prevent falls that can lead to serious injury or loss of independence. Together, we support older adults in staying safe and living confidently at home. We listen, care, and work alongside older adults to provide ideas, resources, and solutions based on each person's goals, needs, and interests

The ADRC can help & here's how... If you are interested in learning more, the ADRC can help connect you to local resources and support. An ADRC Specialist will call you in a few days. They provide services via phone, online, or within your home to meet your comfort level. It is a free service with no obligation. If you need something in the meantime, you can also call them directly at 920-448-4300.
