

National Family Caregiver Support Program (NFCSP)

The National Family Caregiver Support Program (NFCSP) offers respite, information, support, and other resources to family caregivers.

What is NFCSP?

NFCSP helps you as a caregiver have access to respite care. Respite care is getting help doing things you normally do as a caregiver. If you qualify, the program provides funding to purchase respite services that will support caring for your loved one in their home as long as possible. Funding is limited. Applications through ADRC are required (see below).

Do I qualify for NFCSP?

As a caregiver, you are eligible if you provide unpaid care to any of the following persons:

1. Adult age 60 or older needing assistance with daily living activities
2. Adult with dementia
3. Adult with a disability age 19 - 59 (and you are a relative age 55 and older)
4. Minor child age 19 and under (and you are a relative age 55 and older)

What Community Supports can NFCSP Cover?

Limited, short-term respite:

- Chore services (yard work, heavy housework)
- Personal care (dressing, bathing)
- Daily home tasks (meal prep, errands)
- Companionship

How can I Apply for NFCSP?

To learn more about the program or to apply, call ADRC at (920) 448-4300. Staff are available to assist Monday - Friday between 8:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.
